THE MUNICH SUMMIT
DEAL-MAKING FOR SCIENCE, START-UPS AND INDUSTRY LEADERS

MUST – The Munich Summit is hiring!

MUST is offering 6-12 month internships in the event management branch of Munich's start-up scene starting immediately and/or for Fall 2017.

MUST positions Munich and Bavaria as the leading hub for tech start-ups in Europe. We bring international top start-ups together with established technology companies like Siemens, BMW, Lufthansa, IBM, Intel, and Munich Airport, amongst others.

We see ourselves as networkers and service providers whose mission is to bring together the right stakeholders and to shine the spotlight on the start-up scene in Munich - of which we, as a start-up ourselves, are also a part.

Located at the intersection of industry, science and start-ups, we possess a broad network, which we aim to bring together via MUST events and MUST Satellites.

In February 2017, we once again brought together 400 top industry representatives, start-ups from 20 countries, investors, academics and multipliers for deal-making and match-making in Munich: Video / Impressions

In order to further establish our projects and increase our organizational capacities for MUST and our Satellites, we are seeking energetic project assistants.

Your Tasks:

- Assistance in the development and planning of MUST 2018 and MUST Satellites
 - Development of new and ongoing projects in the start-up and entrepreneurial sector
 - Collaboration on website maintenance and development, drafting of texts, PR and social media
 - Contact with start-ups
 - Marketing activities
 - Conceptual and editorial marketing work to advertise Munich as a start-up hub

Assets:

- Insights into the start-up/entrepreneurial scene and innovation sector in Munich, Bavaria, Germany and abroad
 - Collaboration in the total project management of events and PR
 - Access to the immense network of the international start-up community
